WANAMAKER'S REPORT

Of the Doings of His Department—The Anti-Lottery Law, Etc. Washington, November 28.—The post-master general, in his annual report, reviews the legislation of congress for the improvement of the postal service, and dwells at some length upon changes for the better during the past year in the administrative methods of the department. In connection with the last named subject, he says:

named subject, he says:

Over $200,000 has been saved on the contract for postal cards, which, though properly criticised at first, were greatly brought up to the required standard by the contractor; $400,000 has been saved on the contract for stamped envelopes; $200,000 or more has been saved on certain lettings of contracts for carrying mails, and at the same time mail routes have been extended over almost 2,000,000 miles of railway and stamboat and stage line.

The ANTI-LOTTERY LAW.

The anti-lottery legislation has entailed much extra labor upon the inspector's force, but on the other hand the temptation to thieving among employes of the department has been much diminished by the same means.

The past year has been very disagreeable to interest of the descriptions.

ished by the same means.

The past year has been very disagreeable to 'green goods' swindlers.

Negotiations with the German authorities looking to the establishment of a sea postoffice have been successful.

The gross revenue is $5,000,000 larger than ever before. At least 5,000 new postoffices more than in any one year before have been established upon the petitions of communities which have needed them, and decreasing the limit for the extension of free delivery! has permitted the employment of letter carriers in over fifty towns.

The postmaster general devotes a large space to the argument in favor of the postal tele graph system, of which he says:

CHEAPRE TELEGRAPHY.

In one form or another the public imperatively

In one form or another the public imperatively demands cheaper telegraphy, and the postoffice department can supply it at less cost than any ther corporation unless the latter has rent, light other corporation unless the latter has rent, light and fuel free, carriers land clerks without pay. It has been argued that it is not the business of the government to operate the telegraph, but the government of this and every other country controls the mail service, and stoutly claims that the general welfare is promoted by managing the transmission of correspondence. In pursuing that object it puts on mails at great cost, cheapens postage and constantly adds facilities for ready communication.

that object it puts on mails at great cost, cheapens postage and constantly adds facilities for ready communication.

The general welfare will be similarly promoted by going one step further and giving the quickest of all modes of communication, namely, cheap telegraphic facilities, as it does mails at points not profitable for private capital to reach, as well as at all other points.

He also recommends the establishment of postal savings banks. The subject of lotteries and mails is treated briefly as follows:

The new act of congress concerning lotteries accords with the recommendations of my last annual report. The intent of the law is to shut out all lottery business from the mails.

Power is given to the postmaster general, as executive of the department, within the limits of the constitution, to exclude all such matter, and quick action was taken against this business. Each of the 62,401 postmasters and inspectors have been officially notified of the terms of the act, and the department has issued regulations to govern their proceedure in executing the law. The two months that it has been in operation are too short a time to produce results, but there is satisfactory progress. The lottery companies cannot but see that there is to be we triffing or evisions in dealing with them. The press has aided the department of its general approval, and the public at large has seconded its efforts to make the law effective.

Considerable space is given to an explana-Considerable space is given to an explana-tion of the act for the exclusion of indecent APPOINTMENTS AND REMOVALS.

It appears from the report that 14,072 post masters were removed during the past two years and 26,680 appointed in the same time. Appointments for the past year numbered 14,448 and removals 6,274. THE CIVIL SERVICE LAW.

The report touches upon the question of civil service, as applied to the postoffice depart-civil service, as applied to the postoffice department, in the following words:

A year's experience confirms me in the judgment formed twelve months ago, that the civil service system as applied to the rosters of the postoffice department, is susceptible of improvement. The examinations for the inspector's force and for the railway mail service ought to be made more difficult, so that candidates for the places will better stand the test of actual work. The practice of the department shows that the inspector's force, for example, is more efficient, as a whole, if eligibles who have seen public service, are select d instead of those who have simply been examined.

I wish that some scheme might be devised by which the departmental force and all parts and branches of the postal service, classified or to be classified, might be encouraged into new exertions by some just and general and certain plan of motions. I think it would be impossible to find an appointing officer who has not been glad to take advantage of the stringent examinations to keep away mere political place-seckers.

GUTHRIE, Okla., November 28.—[Special.]
May Baily, a young lady who had been subpenced as a witness in the West murder case, died last night from poison, which had been administered in her coffee. There is great indignation. Three weeks ago West was found dead on the highway north of here, with his head beat into a pulp. A notice was found near the corpse, written in a fine feminine hand, warming every one to refrain from searching for the destroyer of George West. Notice was further served that any one who did undertake to ferret the crime out would be served a fate not unlike the one served West. May Baily was to have testified today. Her death was from arsenic.

A Demand for Small Notes WASHINGTON, November 28.—The treasury department today declined a proposition from New York to issue $2,000,000 in treasury notes of small denominations in exchange for gold coin on the ground that these notes can be legally issued only in payment for silver bullion or in exchange for treasury notes of larger denominations. There are about $18,000,000 of these notes now in circulation, and more will be put out as soon as the purchase of silver is resumed next Monday. The proposition indicates an extraordinary demand for small notes in New York.

PUGH RE LLECTED

TO SERVE HIS THIRD TERM IN THE

THE KOLB MEN GO OVER TO HIM cause They Felt that Governor Seay's Can didacy Had Directly Antagonized

MONTGOMERY, Ala., November 28 .- [Spe cial.]-The senatorial fight was settled by the politicians yesterday over their |Thanksgiving dinner, and loday the formality of election was speedily disposed of.

Long before the hour fixed for balloting arrived, it was quietly spread around the capitol building that Governor Watts and Com-missioner Kolb would be withdrawn from the senatorial race and that the joint session would elect at its sitting either Mr. Pugh or Mr. Seay. The truth of this rumor was evidenced by the fact that there was an unusual activity among the workers, and every minute up to the time of opening the joint session, was spent in work. THE ROLL CALL BEGINS.

When the roll call was commenced the Watts men of the senate wheeled into the Pugh line, and all the senators who had ever voted for Kolb in open ballot, except Messrs. N. E. Smith and Smith, of Mobile, went in their company. The house roll was called, and it was found that the Kolb men early in call preferred Mr. Pugh to Mr. Seay, Speaker Clements leading off for Pugh, followed by Mr. Adams, president of the state alliance. The first Kolb man to go for Mr. Seay was Mr. Bain, who was followed by Messrs. Bevis and Bishop, Davis of Fayette, Parks, Peacock, Townsend of Limestone and Wilson. Mr. Guthrie, who never voted before in an open ballot, but who was a Kolb man, voted for Governor Seay. The only Watts man who voted for Mr. Seay was Mr. Webb. Mr. Hayed, who has been voting heretofore for Mr. Seay, voted otherwise today, changing vote after roll-call. Foster Sullivan, the three republican members of the house, gave their votes to Mr. Seay.

THE RESULT STATED.

The roll calls showed that twenty-one sena tors had voted for Pugh and ten for Seay, and in the house the vote stood, Pugh, 69; Seay, 29, giving Pugh a total of 90, and Seay 39. Mr. Adams offered a motion to raise a committee of three to notify Mr. Pugh of his election and to invite him to address the general assembly. He was conducted by the commit-tee into the hall, and taking the stand was introduced to the body by President Hargrove.

MR. PUGH SPEAKS. Mr. Pugh thanked the general assembly for his re-election to the position of senator. He stated that though he had stood three times on the speaker's stand to return thanks to the general assembly of Alabama for an election to the position of United States senator, he prized the present election higher than either of the previous ones, because it was an evidence that the democrats of Alabama approved his course as a senator from this state. He re-pudiated the idea that his election on this occasion was an anti-alliance victory. He did not claim it a victory over any particular man or organization. It was an evidence that the democrats of Alabama want an organized democrat to represent them in the senate of the United States. Mr. Pugh then outlined briefly, his course in the senate, explaining his position on public questions, particularly the tariff and financial question. His state-ments on the question of finance met with frequent and hearty applause. He stated that the circulation was not large enough, that the circulating medium of the country footed up only one and a half billions, but of this only two-thirds was in active circulation. favored increasing the active circulation to two billions, thus giving more and cheaper

Mr.IAdams-That is what the farmers want. Mr. Pugh stated that he knew full well the need of the farming classes, and would do everything in his power for their relief. He complimented the farmers, and endorsed organization in their ranks for their advancement as a class, but he cautioned them against arraying themselves in antagonism to the lemocratic party.

Mr. Adams—The history of the organiza. tion shows that they have not done that. Mr. Pugh then stated that he would go on Monday to Washington, to be present at the roll call. He told the general assembly that the force bill would come up during the ses sion, and that he wanted to be there to fight Mr. Pugh outlined the history of the bill, and then explained the methods which the democrats will use to prevent its consideration. He pronounced the present condition of the national demo-cratic party to be very good, and its prospects very bright. The late elections, in many cases, the result of local fights, and the democratic victories cannot be taken as an index to what will be the result in 1892, but he was hopeful that 7,000,000 voters would march to the polls and elect a democratic president. In con-clusion, he pointed to the bright outlook ahead for Alabama, if the people of that state were left alone to manage their own affairs. One significant feature of the result is that Kolb's supporters, almost to a man, voted for Pugh, which has occasioned much comment and speculation.

Police Breaking Up the Ghost Dances-The Indians Massing. Chicago, Ills., November 28 .- A spec from Wichita, Kans., says reports from Fort Reno tell of greatly increased excitement among the ghost dancers, and considerable accessions to their ranks, especially from among the Kiowas and Apaches, who seem most interested and inclined to be turbulent. The more excitable redskins are cutting them elves with spears and knives, and the sight of blood has had the effect of greatly arousing the warriors' spirits. Yuanah and several other well-known chiefs reached the scene of the thost dance last night and they appear to have een the bearers of some informat north, which so inflamed the blood of several lodges of braves that they mounted their conies, approached the fort and dared the oldiers to come out. Runners sent north by the Caddos and Kiowas have not yet returned and scouts are to look out to intercept as it is feared that reports of bloodshed may hasten the outbreak. The greatest uneasiness prevails among the whites on the west border of Oklahoma and in Green county, Texas. AN IMPROVEMENT IN THE SITUATION. DISPERSING THE DANCERS.

CHAMEBELIN, S. D., November 28.—The Lower Brule Indian police last night started in to break up the ghost dances which was being carried on at the mouth of the White river, and today eight of the leading dancers are in jail at the agency. Another dance is reported as organizing for tonight and the police are ready for it. Affairs were lively for a time, but the police were too much for the new adherents of the Messiah craze. Being prevented from dancing, many of the Indians want to join their comrades south of White river, but the Indian police will not let them. No danger of an outbreak is feared. Both the agent and Indian police are exercising the utmost vigilance and vigor in the enforcement of regulations.

PARNELL'S MANIFESTO. HE WILL NOT VOLUNTARILY RETIRE

WHY IT WOULD BE DISASTROUS.

He Defies His Political Opponents, and Ap peals to the People of Ireland to Sustain Him-What He Says.

London, November 28.—Mr. Parnell has issued the following manifesto:

To the Irish people: The integrity and independence of a section of the Irish parliamentary party having been apparently sapped and destroyed by wire-pullers of the liberal party, it has become necessary for me, as leader of the Irish party, to take counsel with you, and having given you the knowledge which is my possession, to ask your judgment upon a matter which now solely devolves upon you to decide. The letter from Mr. Gladstone to Mr. Morley, written for the purpose of influencing the decision of the Irish party in the choice of their leader, and claiming for the liberals and that leaders the right of veto upon the choice, is the immediate cause of this address, the purpose of which is to remind you and your parliamentary representatives that Ireland considers the independence of her party as her only safeguard within LONDON, November 28.-Mr. Parnell has pendence of her party as her only saleguard within the constitution, and above and beyond all other considerations whatever.

The threat in that letter-repeated so insolently The threat in that letter—repeated so insolently on many English platforms, and in numerous British newspapers—that unless Ireland concedes this right of veto to England, she will indefinitely postpone her chance of obtaining home rule, compels me—while not for a moment admitting the slightest possibility of such a loss—to put before you information which till now, so far as my colleagues are concerned, has been solely in my possession, and which will enable you to understand the measure of the loss with which you are threatened, unless you consent to throw me to the English wolves now howling for my destruction.

In November, of last year, in response to a repeated and long standing request. I visited Mr. Gladstone at Howarden, and received the details of the intended proposals of himself and his colleagues of the late liberal cabinet, with regard to home rule in the event of the next general to home rule in the event of the next general election favoring the liberal party. It is unnecessary for me to do more at present than direct your attention to certain points of these details which will be generally recognized as embracing ele-ments vital for your information and the formation of your judgment.

These vital points of difficulty may be suitably arranged and considered under the following

1. Retention of Irish members in the imperial parliament.

arranged and considered under the following heads:

1. Retention of Irish members in the imperial parliament.

2. The settlement of the land or agrarian difficulty in Ireland.

3. Control of Irish constabulary.

4. Appointment of the judiciary, including judges of the supreme court, county court judges, and resident magistrates.

Upon the subject of the retention of Irish members in parliament, Mr. Gladstone told me that the unanimous opinion of his colleagues and himself, recently arrived at after most mature consideration and after alternative proposals, was that in order to conciliate English public opinion it would be necessary to reduce Irish representation from 103 to 32. Upon the settlement of the land question it was held that this was one of the questions which must be regarded as questions reserved from the control of the Irish legislature; but, at the same time, Mr. Gladstone intended that, while he would renew his attempt to settle the matter by imperial legislation on the lines of the land purchase bill of 1886, he would not undertake to put any pressure upon his own side or insistupon their adopting his views—in other and shorter words, that the Irish legislature was not to be given the power of solving the agrarian difficulty and with regard to the control of the Irish constabulary it was stated by Mr. Gladstone that in view of the necessary to leave this force to the appointment of its officers, under control of imperial authority, for an indefinite period, while funds for its maintenance, payment and equipment would be compulsorily provided out of the Irish revenues. A period of ten or twelve years was suggested as the limit of time during which the appointment of its officers, under control of imperial authority, for an indefinite expressed the view that with the imperiant and negligible of a grarian reform, constabulary is under the proposal resident magistrates be retained in the hands of the imperial authority, and he asced from the very leave the position. At the instance of Irish members of the crown in Ireland by a legal member of my party.

I told him, amazed as I was at the proposal, that I could not agree to forfeit, in any way, the independence of the party or any of its members, that the Irish people had trusted me in this movement, because they believed the declaration I had made to them at Cork, in 1880, was a true one, and represented my convictions, and that I would on no account depart from it, and I considered that, after the declaration we had repeatedly made about the proposal of Morley, that we should allow outselves to be absorbed into English politics, was one based upon an entire misconception of our position with regard to our Irish constituencies of the pledges we have given.

In conclusion he directed my attention to the plan of campaign on estates.

In conclusion he directed my attention to the plan of campaign on estates.

He said that it would be impossible for the liberal party, when it attained power, to do anything for these evicted tenants by direct action, and that it would also be impossible for the Irish parliament, under the power conferred, to do anything for them, and flinging up his hands with a gesture of despair, he exclaimed:

"Having been in Tipperary, I do not know what to propose in regard to the matter."

I told him this question was a limited one; that I do not see that he need allow himself to be hampered by its future consideration; that funds would be available from America and elsewhere for the support of those tenants as long as might be necessary; that, of course, I understood that it was a difficulty, but that it was a limited one, and should not be allowed to interfere with the general interests of the country.

I allode to this matter only because within the cuity, but that it was a limited one, and should not be allowed to interfere with the general interests of the country.

I allude to this matter only because within the last few days a strong argument, in many minds, for my expulsion, has been that unless the liberals come into power at the next general election, the plan of campaign tenants will suffer. As I have shown, the liberals propose to do nothing for the plan of campaign tenants by direction when they come into power, but I am entitled to ask that the existence of those tenants, whom I have supported in every way in the past, and whom I shail continue to support in the luture, shall not constitute the reason for my expulsion from Irish politics. I have repeatedly pledged myself to stand by these evicted tenants, and that they shall not be allowed to suffer, and I believe that the Irish people throughout the world will support me in this policy.

Sixteen years ago I conceived the idea of an Irish parliamentary party, independent of all English parties. Ten years ago I was elected leader of the independent Irish parliamentary party. During these ten years this party has remained, and because of its independence, it has forced upon English people the necessity of granting rule to Ireland. I believe the party will obtain home rule cause, or postpone the establishment of an Irish parliament.

But, if the danger with which we are threatened by the liberal party of today were to be realized. I believe that the Irish people introughout the world would agree with me that the postponement would be preferable to a compromise of our national rights by the acceptance of a measure which would not realize the aspirations of our race. I have the honor to remain your servant.

ARCHEISHOF WALSH'S VIEWS.

DUELIN, November 28.—Archbishop Walsh writes to the press as follows:

The Parnell matter is altogether too grave to enable me as an individual bishop to feel warranted in making any public statement of my opinion with reference to it until I have had an opportunity to consult with my Episcopal brethren. I understand that the Irish parliamentary party will meet on Monday to decide what action shall be taken in the lamentable crisis with which it stands confronted. It is easy to conceive that the decision of our parliamentary representatives may have the effect of opening up a new phase of the Irish national movement, and that the situation resulting from their decision may be one that will put upon the bishops of Ireland, collectively, as well as individually, the very grave duty of considering whether, or how far it will be in our power to continue in the future to place, in the Irish parliamentary party, that confidence which, as a body, we have felt justified in placing in it in the past.

The archbishop adds that he would be un-

The archbishop adds that he would be unable to support, in any conceivable circumstances, the suggested new Irish national liberal party. He concludes, mysteriously, as follows:

Let me, in conclusion, say that, for the last few days certain events of not a very remote occurrence—which seem, however, just now to have almost passed from public attention—have been very prominently before my mind. With a recollection of these before me, I am, I confess, unable as yet to feel absolutely convinced that we are even now in position to form a final judgment on the case, out of which the present unhappy crisis has arisen. In this I may be illogical, but it is better to be illogical than to run the risk of being uncharitable or unjust.

At all events this is a matter that in the circumstances.

At all events, this is a matter that in the circumstances of time must now be decided one way or the other before many days.

The Irish Catholic Hierarchy is unanimous in the opinion that Mr. Parnell should refire from his position at the head of the nationalist party. Rulers of the church in Ireland did not desire to appear as coercing Catholic members of the house of commons, but their opinion will be pronunced publicly; if the nationalist, meeting to be held on Monday, attempts to whitewash Mr. Parnell. It may be pronounced earlier if in his manifesto, which he has stated through The Freeman's Journal he would issue tonight, Mr. Parnell does not deny or disprove the charges made against him in the divorce confit.

A DENIAL OF THE ABOVE.

The Press Association says it is authorized to state that the announcement that the Irish Catholic hierarchy contemplated taking action against Parnell was premature, and that the statements in the announcement were entirely speculative.

A canvass has been conducted by members of the Irish parliamentary party who are opposed to Parnell's retention of the party leadership, with a view of ascertaining how the poll is likely to go at Monday's meeting. The result was the securing of pledges from fifty-three members of the party to vote against Parnell. Among those who have given pledges are Abraham, John Barry, Carew, Chance, Claney, Cummins, Condon, Cox, Crilley, Lebsy, Dickson, John Dillon, Esmonde, Finucane, Fox, Flynn, Gilhooly, Timothy, Healy, Maurice Healy, Jordan, M. J. Kenney, Kilbride, Knox, Lalor, Lane, Leahy, McCartan, Justin McCarthy, Peter McDonald, Molloy, Morrough, Murphy, J. F. O'Brien, Patrick O'Brien, P. J. O'Brien, Arthur O'Connor, O'Monlon, O'Keefe, Quinn, Reynolds, Roche, Sexton, Sheehan, Sheehy, Stack, Timothy, Daniel Sullivan, Tanner and Webe.

WHAT THE FAPERS SAY.

LONDON, November 20.—The Post, referring to the Parnell manifesto, says:
Never has the veil of secrecy been more ruthlessly torn aside. Not a single point of the sordid conspiracy has been omitted from the story of the home rule compact, now for the first time brought to light, the bomb has been exploded in a moment of anger, and Parnell turns evidence against his fellow-conspirators in order to save his own political life. The manifesto proclaims Parnell's intention to promote complete separation as fully as did his famous speech in America, and has rendered the prospects for home rule worse than they have been at any time since 1885.

The Daily News Says:
Mr. Parnell so completely ignores the points at FOR AND AGAINST PARNELL. A canvass has been conducted by members

The Daily News says:

Mr. Parnell so completely ignores the points at the points at the difficult to understand the meaning Mr. Parnell so completely ignores the points at issue that it is difficult to understand the meaning of his manifesto. It would be a powerful appeal if it did not rest on an entire misconception, we hesitate to say complete misrepresentation, of the whole circumstances of the case. We are willing to make large allowances for him. To his excited feelings every man's kand seems against him, and he sets his hand against every man. Lawless conduct, continued for years, of which he stands guilty, has blinded him to a perception of moral distinctions. In reprobation that his conduct meets, he can see nothing but a desire for his destruction. Yet the liberal party treated him with every possible consideration. We will say nothing of his revelations. A breach of confidence, if it has been committed, would be but a small part of the fault which all English liberals will find with the manifesto.

We regret it most for the almost irreparable injury it inflicts on the Irish cause. It seems to be the last fatal act which obliterates many, if not all his incomparable services.

The article concludes with appeals to the Irish clergy and people not to allow Parnell to drag down the home rule cause in his own fall by a belief in the serious misapprehension of their English friends, of which The Chronicle admits that Mr. Parnell has dealt a smashing blow, in the most unscrupulous manner, at Messrs. Gladstone and Morley.

The appeal is ingeniously framed to persuade lous manner, at Messrs. Gladstone and Morley.

The appeal is ingeniously framed to persuade Irishmen that they will lose much and gain nothing worth having by dismissing him, but it will arouse popular indignation. His most powerful blow is the revelation of the abject paralysis of the Gladstonian party over the land question, and Morley's confession of their inability to assist sufferers from the plan of campaign by promising to see evicted tenants out of their troubles. Mr. Parnell gained his point, but failed to gauge the situation which lies in a nutshell. Mr. Gladstone's scheme matters little. It will be killed by the manifesto, but the English people having seen what manner of men the Parnellites are will never trust them with the government of Ireland. The manifesto clearly shows that Mr. Parnell is not a person with whom any statesman can venture to hold confidential relations. Irish ingratitude in politics is proverbial, but never before was it avowed with such cold and calculating cynicism.

Commenting on the letter of Archbishop Walsh, The Chronicle says:
This is not the first time that dignitaries of this church have condoned the grossest profligacy in men of political power. We believe that there is still much unknown of Mr. Parnell's intrigue.
We also believe that if all were known the result would be to leave Mr. Parnell's character blacker than ever.

We also believe that if all were known the result would be to leave Mr. Parnell's character blacker than ever.

The Times says:

The manifesto shivers forever the supposition that Mr. Parnell cân ever again be treated as a trustworthy friend or honorable foe. It is probably the most shameless document English public life has seen since the days of the revolutions But shameless at it, it will not improbably effectits immediate purpose in Ireland and rivet onct again the yoke of an uncrowned kine on the neck of the Irish people. The mutineerg in parliamentary ranks, by their outrageous breach of confidence, hold Gladstone and Morley up as men desiring to play Ireland false. All sections of the British people will share in hesitation to credit Parnell's unsupported statements. Nevertheless it is impossible to suppose that the revelations are wholly without foundation. It is impossible to discuss at length this remarkable document but we are satisfied to have exhibited the maliginant ability with which it was conceived and the severity of the blow inflicted on Mr. Gladstone's impracticable scheme.

FLEMINGTON, November 27 .- The following letter was found among the old papers of one William S. Norman a short time since. Mr. Norman, to whom the letter was written, died Norman, to whom the letter was written, dear several years ago. He was a college mate of Hon. Thomas R. R. ATHENS, Ga., July 21, 1857.—Dear Norman: It is no common place remark in me when I say that your letter was very welcome. It was a kind remembrancer, bringing back to me old times and their pleasant recollections. Sometimes my college days appear as but yesterday, and then again when the many scenes I have passed and the changes I have witnessed pass lefore me and my four little children (the oldest now at school) play around me, I feel like an old man, Norman, and wonder how I ever was a boy. But my heart is as light as when we used to gambol together on the college green. I enjoy a game of marbles with my little brothers-in-law as much as I did when my bare feet and patched-kneed breeches marked me out truly as a grammar school boy, and I do believe that if my old classmates were all gathered together in a room in the third story of the old college, with Sam Knox to pat "Juba" and Sol Barnard to lead the ring, I could dance the stag dance with as hearty a good will as I did just ten years ago, when we were all rejoicing at the completion of our final examination. I had hoped we would many of us have met at this approaching commencement, and I had thought of sending around a circular proposing a general assembling, but my duty as reporter calls me to Americus at that time, so that I can not be present myself at that time, However, I have heard of several that intended coming, Can you onto be of the number? My heart will be with you all, I do assure you.

I have never heard of the death of any member of our class. I have not heard of a dishonest or mean act done by any one of them. If any one of them is a gambler or vagabond or drunkard I have never heard of it. Five within my knowledge are ministers of the gospel. Many others profess to be followers of the lamb. Is not this a record over which we may feel justly wrould.

May God bless you, Norman, in every undertaking.

FEELING THE FINANCIAL PULSE. The Return of Captain Bagley from a Northern Trip.

AMERICUS, Ga., November 28.—[Special.]—
Captain H. C. Bagley, president of the Americus Investment Company, has just returned from a ten days' trip to Baltimore and New York, and enjoyed exceptional opportunities while north for feeling the financial pulse of the money centers. He gives the opinions of several leading bank presidents of New York regarding the present crisis, and they are quite hopeful that anything more than the failure of a speculative or weak house here and there will be averted.

The associated banks of New York will stand together, and help each other to avert anything like a panic or run, and while money will be tight for a time, it is Captain Bagley's opinion, based upon the best sources of information, that the worst is over, and that business will resume its normal channels after the big January interest disbursements ease the money markets of the east.

The Americus Investment Company is pushing the building of the Montgomery end of the Savannah, Americus and Montgomery railroad as rapidly as possible; and the large financial operations of this company in connection therewith give its president the best of opportunities for forming an accurate and reliable opinion of the financial outlook of the country at large. The loss is a heavy one, and fails on some of Mr. Patterson's customers as well as himself. Six bales of the cotton had already been ginned and were stored under the ginery. Mr. Patterson's individual loss will be in the neighborhood of $1,200, with no insurance. The total loss will amount to about $2,000. MUNICIPAL POLITICS. AMERICUS ABOUT TO DECIDE ON A litical Strikers and Deadbeats-The Candidates Against Them.

AMERICUS, Ga., November 28 .- [Special.]-The great interest felt in the approaching city election has been crystallized into action through the efforts of the local papers, and a call for a citizens' mass meeting to select an executive committee to arrange the time and manner of conducting a primary election, has been largely signed by the leading citizens. In occordance with this call there is to be a massmeeting of democrats at the opera house on Monday next, December 1st, and it may now be regarded as certain that a primary will be ordered. At previous municipal elections there has been such a scramble, and so heavy drains have been made upon the candidates for mayor and aldermen by the heelers, strikers and deadbeats, that all right-thinking people have become disgusted with such methods. Under the scramble system heretofore in vogue, it has cost the suc-cessful candidate for the mayoralty upwards of a year's salary to meet the demands of the heelers, and the aldermen have fared even worse, their expenditures being offset by no salaries at all.

A democratic primary will shut off all that element, whose votes and supposed influence have heretofore been the cause of so much trouble in the municipal elections; and a clean and honorable race for the nomination between gentlemen will be the result.

Mayor Felder will be a candidate for reelection, and will be opposed by Captain' John A. Cobb, and probably by Alderman P. H. Williams and Postmaster J. C. Roney. If the primary race takes this shape, it will be very hard to predict the name of the nominee for mayor, as all three gentlemen are popular and capable.

It may now be put down as sure that Americus will take a step forward in the line of po litical purification at Monday's mass meeting, and that hereafter the disgraceful scenes at-tending her city elections will not be repeated.

The following, from The Tunnel Hill Enter-prise, explains the boycott:

duly assembled, heleby whithdaw any an accourtesies heretofore extended to The New South, of Ringgold.

Resolved, second, That for our actions we set forth the following reasons for withdrawing these courtesies: That the editor of said paper has on every occasion stabbed the alliance to its very heart in more ways than one, by publishing at various times articles against our worthy president, L. F. Livingston, Dr. Macune, and also publishing a notice of the congressional election, in which he stated that the election would take place one day after it was over, and instead of publishing anything to further the interest of the alliance he has in every instance willfully said and published articles that have a tendency to bring the alliance into disrepute and do it an injury.

Resolved, That these resolutions be published in The Tunnel Hill Enterprise.

OUTWITTED BY A SHERIFF.

Who Disguised the Victim as a Female BIRMINGHAM, Ala., November 28 .- [Spe cial.]-By a clever ruse the sheriff of Shelby cial.]—By a clever ruse the sheriff of Shelby county, Ala., last night saved a prisoner from being lynched by a mob. John Daniels, a negro, was in jail at Columbiana on the charge of criminal assault upon a white woman. A mob surrounded the jail last night, intending to lynch Daniels. The sheriff had only one deputy to help him, but he held a part with the mob while the deputy made Daniels put on a dress and bonnet. In this disguise the deputy was able to get the prisoner safety on a cress and connec. In this deputy was able to get the prisoner safely through the mob and out of the way before the ruse was discovered. The sheriff exthe ruse was discovered. The sheriff ex-plained to the crowd that the woman with the deputy was the jail cook, who was badly frightened, and wanted to get away. When the prisoner was safely out of the way with the deputy, the sheriff admitted the mob to the jail, but their intended victim for safe-keeping.

RED CLOUD'S SISTER

Is a Prominent Society Lady in Chattan CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., November 28.-[Spe cial.]—A well-known society lady of this city revealed the fact today that Red Cloud, the ung Sioux chief and lieutenant of Sitting Bull, is not an Indian, but her own brother In 1857, when but three years old, he was stolen from his home in Wisconsin, and could not be found until eighteen years later, having lived with the Indians those eighteen years. He remembered his father's name, and the names of his dogs and identification was complete. He returned to his family for a few weeks, when he returned to the Sioux reservation, the life in civilization making him restless. He could speak French fluently, but only broken English. He had warm sympathy for the Sioux, whom he believed had been greatly wronged. His sister moved here about five years ago, and only intimate friends have known that Red Cloud was her brother. Both the sister and the family who still live in Minnesota, are fearful that he may be killed during the present outbreak.

Settlers Pouring Into Southwest Texas. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., November 28.—[Special.]—There have been hundreds of settlers pouring into southwest Texas during the past few months, and the cheap lands are being settled upon in every county, especially those bordering on the gulf coast. The present indications are that the cattle and wool-growing adjusting this section has best its or in this section has best its or in this section. ndustry in this section has lost its grip, as the xtensive grazing ranches are rapidly being out up into farming tracts, which are sold cheap to actual settlers.

The Past Week Did Not Improve it Much-

NEW YORK, November 28.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s trade review says: The past broker week has not improved the business outlook. The difficulty of obtaining commercial loans increases, not here only, but at most other points. Banks and other lenders from the largest to the smallest appear to lenders from the largest to the smallest appear to have been induced by recent events to strengthen themselves. Merchants have grown more cautious about extending obligations or making purchases which can be deferred, appreciating that retail buying may be cut down somewhat by the reduced ability of some consumers, and by the disposition of others to economize, in view of the extensively reported advance in prices. Meanwhile speculation has been reviving to an unhealthy extent in some directions on the theory that the troubles are over and things will improve.

THE MONEY MARKETS

are thus loaded with increased demands for carrying securities and products at a time when trade especially needs more liberal supplies. At most especially needs more liberal supplies. At most of the interior markets, money grows more stringent, and the scarcity begins to affect trade at important centers, though the volume of business is still very large. Money is quiet at Pittsburg at six to seven, but Bessemer steel is 50 cents lower and the demand for finished from smaller.

REPORTS FROM THE CITIES.

Southern reports are less encouraging. Money is in sharp demand at New Orleans, the movement of sugar being unprecedented; exceedingly tight at Savannah, with commercial prospects less bright; more timid at Atlanta, and in western Florida the short crop and the embarrasments of merchants cloud the prospect. But at Baltimore money is easy, manufacturing active and the retail trade improved, though the jobbing trade slackens. The setback in wool at Boston averages I cent less on delaines and combines, but more on stackers. The setback in woot at rosted averages I cent less on detaines and combings, but more un other kinds. Woolen manufacturers have lost the hope of obtaining better prices for goods. Cotton manufacture is fairly maintained. The uncertainty in the boot and shoe trade, on account of the reaction in leather, causes reduced shimments.

The week has been one of peculiar duliness in the iron trade, and the tone is weaker. There is apprehension of forced sales by some southern apprehension of forced sales by some southern furnaces, and one large transaction at $10 for gray forge is reported at Birmingham. Rail purchasers hold off, and there is a visible decrease in orders for finished products. But speculative markets have been advancing. Wheat has risen 6½ cents, corn 2½ cents, and oats 4½ cents; lard 15 cents per 100 pounds, and coffee ½ cent; pork being unchanged and oil 1 cent lower. Cotton has also yielded 1-16 cent in view of crop prospects.

In the stock market the strong rally of last weel

In the stock market the strong rally of last week continues, prices having been moved up about $4 per share since the break, and proposed new rall-road alliances and consolidations are counted upon, as if there were no chance of unfriehdly interference of western legislatures. There is already heard, as a stimulus to speculation, much talk of the passage of a bill for the free coinage of silver at the next session.

The treasury has not been able to give any assistance to the money market during the past week, but has put out $1,000,000 more silver notes, nearly balancing the net withdrawal of $1,800,000 other money from circulation. There is at present near of disturbance from abroad, as funds in the Bank of England will increase ranjdly, and the rate of sterling exchange is maintailed.

Ala.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., November 28.—[Special.]—At Sylacauga, Ala., a little town fifty miles east of this city, today, W. L. B. Hunter, an editor, shot and instantly killed Charles Nickerson, the town marshal. Hunter is in jail, pending a preliminary trial.

Hunter is editor of The Sylacauga Bee, a weekly paper, and correspondent of the daily papers in this city and Montgomery. Monday night he was out on a lark with a party of friends, and they were all arrested by the marshal on a charge of discharging firearms on the streets. In a dispatch to a paper in this city next day, Hunter made the following report of the affair:

"W. L. B. Hunter, editor of The Sylacauga

streets. In a dispatch to a paper in this city next day, Hunter made the following report of the affair:

"W. L. B. Hunter, editor of The Sylacauga Bee, M. B. Parker, R. C. Reid and S. A. B. Williamson were all arrested last night, charged with firing one shot of a pistol in the jurisdiction of the city. But the testimony proved that the gentlemen were not guilty as charged. The marshal was charged with being under the influence of liquor at the time the arrest was made. The young men have had him arrested for using profane and indecent language on the streets, and will sue the city for damages."

When Nickerson read this, he was angry. Today he met Hunter on the street, and it is said attacked him with a stick, striking him two blows. Hunter drew his pistol and fired two shots, the second one striking the marshal in the brain, killing him instantly.

The state board of canvassers gave the certificate of election to him today. This gives South Carolina seven democratic gives South Carolina seven democratic con-gressmen and no republicans. T. E. Miller, the colored republican, contested the election, claiming a large majority. This majority was thrown out by he canvassers on the ground that they were illegal, on account of the color and size. Miller appealed to the state board. They could not decide, and the supreme court gave the certificate to Elliott. Miller will contest the election before the next congress.

Alabama Coal Miners to Strike BIRMINGHAM, Ala., November 28.—All coal miners in Alabama—some 8,000 in number— have been ordered on a strike Monday, Denave open ordered on a strike Monday, De-cember 1st. Some of the men are not pleased at the order, but leaders say the men will all go out. The Sun's Cotton Review. New York, November 28.—Futures opened at six points' decline, closing quiet and steady at five to six points' decline from Wednesday's closing prices. The decline today was due mainly to the absence of the sustaining influence which was apparent Wednesday, namely, covering contracts and manipulation. Liverpool was weak and unand manipulation. Liverpool was weak and un-settled, giving no encouragement to bulls. It was asserted, however, on the floor of the cotton ex-change that some leading bears had taken advan-tage of the situation to cover their contracts. Perhaps the advance in silver had a supporting influence in late dealings. Weather at the south was generally reported so severely cold as to prove a serious obstacle to picking. Spot cotton here was dull.

All other reports on Baking Powders signed by me or pun porting to be signed by me are based on investigations made several years ago.

In view of the present controversy as to the purity and whole someness of baking powders, I have been requested to make a chemical examination of the leading brands found in the market. My analysis of Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder verifies the statement on the label, that the only ingredients used are cream of tartar, bicarbonate of soda (both of the highest purity), and a little flour to preserve the strength. My analysis also shows that "Cleveland's Superior" is free from ammonia, alum, or other substitutes.

Owing to the purity, strength, effectiveness, and constancy of composition of Cleveland's Superior Baking Powder, I have adopted the same for use in my home.

THE SUNDAY CONSTITUTION $2 A YEAR.

ATLANTA, GA., NOVEMBER 29, 1890.

The Supreme Court and Its Work.

The bill for a constitutional amendment introduced by Representative Baxter, of Bibb, will be generally approved when it is duly considered. The proposition is to increase the number of supreme court justices from three to five.

When the matter was before the people, short time ago, the amendment was lost because little attention was paid to it. The circumstances and conditions requiring an increased number of judges become more urgent as time rolls on

It was not intended by the framers of our constitution, and it is not desired by the people of Geogria, that the judges of the supreme court should work like galleyslaves. And yet that is just what they have to do. The tremendous volume of litigation in our highest tribunal compels the bench to work day and night, and even Sunday work would not dispose of the business, or materially reduce it.

Two more judges are imperatively needed, not only for the relief of the bench, but in the interests of the people, who are, directly or indirectly, affected by the proceedings and decisions of the court.

There is no economy in overworking the very bench which, of all others, should be most favorably situated in regard to the business before it. We must make the bench equal to the demands made upon its energies, or make up our minds to accept the many inconveniences resulting from crowded dockets and necessary delays.

It will do no good to postpone action. The two additional judges will have to be provided, and the sooner we get things in shape to submit the necessary constitutional amendment to the people, the sooner the court will catch up with its work.

Now, that its importance is better appreciated, it is safe to predict its ratification when the time comes

Skilled Labor Is Wealth.

The south in natural products is without a rival. All the world utilizes her raw material for commerce and manufactures.

But the raw material alone cannot make any section rich. We have inexhaustible fields of iron, but the crude iron is comparatively of little value. It takes skilled to make it count. A single iron bar worth $5, worked into horseshoes, is worth $10.50; made into needles it is worth $355; made into penknife blades it is worth $3,285, and made into balance springs of watches it is worth $250,000! This is an example of what skilled labor can do. Then we have cotton. A bale is worth about $50. Skilled labor comes along and turns it into calico worth $250, or into the finest lace worth $10,000!

We might go on indefinitely on this line, but these two illustrations show how the value of a crude product is multiplied when skilled labor takes hold of it.

Here in the south we are just entering upon our march of industrial progress. Our greatest need is to have our labor properly trained. The Technological school is Georgia's latest effort in that direction. With the judicious support of the state it will open for our brainy and ambitious young men brighter, more useful and more profitable fields in developing our material resources than any profession can offer. Money spent on this school will be a good investment. It will train up an army of workers who will turn our iron and cotton and other raw material into thousands of useful and beautiful forms that will make this the richest spot on the giobe.

The Irish Crisis.

It is natural that the Irish nationalists should hesitate long and seriously before taking steps looking to the retirement of Mr. Parnell from the leadership of their party. It is natural, too, that Mr. Parnell should hesitate to accept far-reaching consequences of the recent verdict in the O'Shea case, and take a step which would mean political oblivion for him. In the situation that thus presents itself, there are serious and deplorable complications which cannot be adjusted in a moment.

The loyalty of the Irish to Mr. Parnell is both reasonable and natural, and it is one of the hopeful and redeeming features of a remarkable political emergency. Mr. Parnell has more than earned all the personal loyalty, affection and confidence that the Irish people can give him. He has made many sacrifices in their behalf, and it was through his influence that the English liberals were induced to espouse the Irish cause. It would be strange, indeed, if, under these circumstances, the members of the nationalist party should make haste to drive Mr. Parnell into

And yet, in the sacrifices that Mr. Parnell has made, in his constancy and devotion to the Irish people, there is one lesson that he has taught his followers, and it is a lesson that cannot be ignored in this emergency. He has taught them that the Irish cause is more important than any man or set of men. He has taught them that no leader, however powerful, can afford to place his personal ambition or desires in the way of the success of the Irish cause. Mr. Parnell cannot ignore his teachings in this direction. Today he is adjudged by a public sentiment which he cannot offord to defy to be an obstacle in the way of the success of the Irish cause. Whether that public sentiment is right or wrong in its judgment, it is idle to discuss. The fact that the public sentiment exists, and that it has created a political crisis in the Irish party, is not to be gainsaid. We do not believe that Mr. Parnell will endanger the success of the cause for which he has labored so long and so faithfully by insisting on any other course that will stroy the advantages which have been won only by long years of patient waiting and personal sacrifice. Should he persist in re-taining the leadership of his party in the face of the protests of his personal friends and his English allies, it will only go to show that his character has been warped by the extraordinary trials and adventures through which he has recently passed. In some respects it is a pitiable ending of a career, but the mitigating fact is, that Ireloyal and generous people, Parnell will always figure as an uncrowned king.

There is no escaping Mr. Gladstone's ultimatum. Either he or Mr. Parnell must re tire from leadership. Should Mr. Parnell persist in the course that he seems to have mapped out, the liberal party will cease to act with the Irish nationalists; and the tories, taking advantage of the public sentiment that has been aroused against Mr. Parnell, will dissolve parliament and appeal to the country, and the end of it all will be a set-back for the Irish cause. All this is so plain that we do not believe Mr. Parnell will hesitate to sacrifice himself and his ambi-

The Jew and the Gentile.

That was a notable and significant gathering in Chicago-Israelites and Christians in common council, met together on a high and liberal plane to discuss the welfare of both sects.

It was what the Methodist would term an "experience meeting." The rabbi and the Christian divine preached from the same pulpit, and discussed their respective creeds in brotherly love and good fellowship.

Maps and charts of Palestine and ancient and modern Jerusalem hung in front of the pulpit at the First Methodist Episcopal church, which was filled to the doors with Jews and Christians, mingling together in a love feast, such as the world had never witnessed before in all its history.

The conference was a review of the work accomplished by both sects from the past to the present, and an interesting review it was. It was this, and more. Religious sects, separated by tradition, so long at war and variance, attested in this meeting the growth of that religious sentiment which has in a great measure softened, if it has not entirely obliterated, sectarian lines, and brought the world together in brotherly

In this country the Jew and the Gentile fare alike, civil and religious liberties are enjoyed by all. There is no religious ostracism. It was shown at this conference that the immense Jewish population of Russia is confined to localities, and upon it is inflicted every possible restraint which can be imposed by official authority. The Jews are subjected to indignities and severe punishment for trivial offenses; they are debarred from all civil and social privileges; their universities have been destroyed and they are unjustly taxed and treated by the government.

America is destined to bring the world to a higher religious plane; to make it consider and accord the religious and civil rights of man; and such conferences as that which has just closed its interesting session at Chicago, will have a great influence in bringing about this much desired result.

A Common-Sense Suggestion.

The State Alliance of Kansas has em bodied in its platform a resolution which ought to commend itself to the common sense of the country. The resolution relates to pensions, and it declares in favor of scaling down this form of reward to a uniform basis. The Kansas farmers, while favoring pensions to union soldiers, perceive that the distinctions made between privates and commissioned officers are not in the direction of justice, and they declare that "the faithful private should receive the same pay as the end this idea to the democratic party when its representatives meet to formulate its platform for the campaign of 1892. When it comes to receiving pay for services in the army, or for devotion, the officers in the union army have no advantage over the humblest privates. The highest and most distinguished officers are retired on pay, and do not need a pension.

If the treasury is to be looted in order to pension soldiers, who, if they were patriotic, had their highest reward in saving the union -if the men who fought in the federal army are to be pensioned, not for their services, but for their votes-there is no reason why the national democratic party should not take the matter up and, following the common-sense example of the Kansas alliancenen, insist that no invidious distinction shall be made between the humble privates and the commissioned officers. The privates bore the brunt of the war, enduring the hardships of the march and confronting danger on the field of battle, and there is no reason why the officers, who were receiving higher pay, and who were enabled to escape much of the hardship and danger, should receive a larger reward than the privates.

So far as services are concerned the pri vates stand on the same footing with their officers, and this fact should certainly be recognized by the government that proposes to reward those who fought for it. We be lieve that if all the pensions were scaled down to those that are paid private soldiers the result would save to the people severa millions of dollars, and, at this juncture when there is a practical deficit in the treas ury, the matter is worth considering.

Heroic Remedies.

The man who causes a panic for specu lative purposes is a public enemy. He de serves a severe punishment, but it is almost impossible under the existing conditions of our civilization to make him suffer the penal terrors of the law. In many cases there is no law that will reach him.

It is said that no banker ever fails in China because he would have his head cut off as soon as he suspended payment. Such a punishment would undoubtedly keep even the most reckless banker straight, but it is too barbarous and shocking to be adopted in an enlightened country.

mors designed to make money dear. Of course this was unlawful violence, but it showed that even in the most highly civilized community people feel that some pun-ishment should be visited upon the men who

Night Schools for Atlanta.

In his letter to the board of education, yesterday, Hon. W. A. Hemphill, president of the board, makes a suggestion which ought to meet with the hearty endorsement of every citizen.

Atlanta has grown to such a size that night schools seem to be a necessity. There are hundreds of children in Atlanta who cannot be reached by the present school facilities, many of them, doubtless, ambitious to procure an education. Certainly every child should have an opportunity of attending school, and if, by force of circumstances, he cannot get that opportunity from the schools as they are, other provisions should be made.

The matter is one which the board of education should carefully consider. Mr. Hemphill, who has studied the situation, is strong advocate of the night schools, and, during his term as mayor, will do all in his power to bring about the desired results.

Reform Sure Enough

We observe from The Richmond Times that, when Mr. Cleveland is elected to the presidency again, he will introduce in the department at Washington, and in all the federal offices, genuine civil service reform. It says, in so many words, that Mr. Cleveland will be an active and energetic worker in the task of "placing a democrat in every possible office.'

We are very glad to hear that Mr. Cleveland has broken away from the civil sham service of the mugwumps, which, at the close of his administration, left as many active, partisan republicans in office as there were democrats. That this was a serious mistake will be acknowledged, we presume by the most officious democratic civil service reformer in the land. When the people vote the democratic party in power, they mean that the offices shall be filled by honest and capable democrats. This is genuine civil service reform.

We have no doubt that Mr. Cleveland has seen the error of his ways in this matter. It is said that he has recently changed his views on the silver question. Both changes are important, for they place the ex-president thoroughly in accord with his party.

On this vexed question throw some light: Can men brace up when money's tight? Mr. JASON GOULD denies that he went gunning for John Wanamaker. No doubt Wanny is too small game for the great sportsman.

The Irish potato crop in the north and part of the west is very short this year. Potatoes will be very high before the winter is over. The McKinley bill raised the tariff on Canada potatoes and there will be no Nova Scotia potatoes in the market. We can make plant them in the north and west. We can make from 200 to 300 bushels per acre with proper cultivation and preparation of land. These potatoes that go forward early will readily sell in New York, Phinadelphia, Boston and Chicago for from $5 to $6 per barrel. Mow, is there anything that a farmer can plant in south Georgia that will beat that and be as certain as the potato crop? DR. BAIRD'S LECTURE

Was Heartily Enjoyed by a Large Audience

The Young Men's Christian Association hal was crowded to its utmost capacity with men young and old, when at 8 o'clock last evening br. J. B. Baird commenced his lecture on "The Relation of the Moral to the Physical Condition of Life," from a physician's standpoint.

Condition of Life," from a physician's standpoint.

Dr. Baird's paper was masterly a intellectual effort. He fully described the man as God made him and intended him to be,
and the duty he owed to his God, himself and his fellowmen. He warned his auditors against the indulgence in licentious pleasures and the wine cup. The lecture strongly denounced the licensing of houses of Ill repute, and advocated their complete extermination. The saloon and the assignation house prove a most powerful combination that has hastened if not completed the ruin of thousands of young men.

Manual labor, or hard intellectual labor, with the thoughts concentrated upon a fixed purpose are the best safeguards against the indulgence of unlawful desires.

At the close of his paper Dr. Baird was heartily applauded for the best and most interesting lecture yet delivered by him in the association course.

Temperance Workers.

Miss Jennie Smith, superintendent of railroad work for the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, with her associate, Mrs. C. M. On Wednesday evening Mrs. Woodward organined "The Jennie Smith Union," in the vicinity of the East Tennessee shops, which will make a specialty of work for railroad men, of which Mrs. Salle F. Saul is president, and Mrs. Hutchins is scretary. Temperance Workers.

A BRILLIANT AFFAIR. THE GATE CITY GUARD'S RECEPTION TO MISS AMY LEE.

An Ovation at the Opera House, Followed by a Delightful Reception and Banquet at the Company's Armory.

The Gate City Guard's reception last evening to Miss Amy Lee, the charming little ctress, was a brilliant affair. Lee is an honorary member of the Guard. The story of her compliment to the company in New York several years ago, and her subsequent election to honorary member-ship, has already been mentioned in these

During the third act Miss Lee was presented of a large cornucopia, designed of Mareschal Niel roses and resting upon a delicately modaled easel.

The little lady accepted the offering in a very catchy speech after the close of the act. At the conclusion of the performance Miss Lee, her mother, Mrs. Watkins, and the other members of the company were driven to the armory, where an elegant banquet was spread in their honor.

A MAGNIFICENT PRESENT.

Hon. A. L. Kontz Presents the Girls' High School with Books.

The Girls' High school, teachers and pupils alike, was given a most delightful surprise yesterday.

It was the work of Hon. A. L. Kontz.

Mr. Kontz is a member of the board of education and no one is more thoroughly conversant with the wants of the school system than he.

For some time past the young ladies of the high school have been wanting a complete set of encyclopedias. The works, besides being quite desirable, was quite expensive.

The young ladies, however, decided to secure the works, and several weeks ago determined to give an entertainment to raise money with which to make the purchase. A programme was perfected, rehearsals were begun, and a day for the entertainment was announced.

That day was yesterday.

The young ladies studied their parts well, as was evidenced by their work in Browning hall last night.

But the entertainment was not necessary because the encyclopedias were secured before the hall was open.

Before noon yesterday a full set of the books, morocco bound and complete to date, was sent to the high school building.

With the books was a card showing that the gift was from Hon. A. L. Kontz.

Mr. Kontz's kindness will ever be a bright chapter in the history of the Girls' High school.

doubtless be liberal and progressive.

Besides making the nominations stated the meeting took occasion to endorse the work of the present administration, commending it for giving the town gas, for the street paving and its liberal policy in general.

ESCAPE FROM JAIL.

FOUR REVENUE PRISONERS GET AWAY YESTERDAY.

A Fifth Makes the Attempt, but Falls from the Top of a Fence and Is so Badly Hurt He Has to Stop.

There was a sensation at Fulton county jail yesterday. The secuped and a fifth one re-ceived severe injuries in his attempt to get away, and was recaptured.

The men who escaped were all revenue prisoner. They were Riley Phillips, J. W. Cox, A. F. Kelley, L. K. Walls. The injured man's name is W. L. Shaw.

All had been tried and sentenced and were Here is how the escape was effected.

During the day the revenue prisoners are allowed the freedom of a large yard in the rear of and at the side of the jail building. When it got most interesting the five men slipped away from the crowd and made a break for the back fence.

A PITCH LAKE.

What the South American Presidents Do

What the South American Presidents Do With Public Money.

"Near where we live," said William Greig, of Trinidad, West Indies, to a Chicago Tribune reporter, "near where we live is a pitch lake. It's at La Brea. It covers about ninety acres and it is soft enough to take the impression of your shoes as you walk over it; but take up a bit of it and strike it sharply and it breaks off with a concholdal fracture like a lump of antifracite. I don't know where it comes from, but I do know that it's most awfully hot there. The sun pells down like fun. and the black pitch absorbs all the heat. All down to the coast, and under the sea, and across in Venezuela, there is a streak of this formation. The British government owns the lake, and a The British government owns the lake, and a monopoly pays a royalty of not less than £20,000 a year

220,000 a year

"We are on the last one of the series of islands of the West Indies," said Mr. Fraser.

"We are only twelve miles from Venezuela, and a man can go across in half a day in an open boat. It is in Trinidad that all the revolutions in Venezuela are hatched up. Those South American republics are a rascally lot. They are rich in manifold resources, but their governments are so unstable. Their presidents pocket the revenues themselves and plant them in Paris, and then when the crash comes they get out. Look at old Guzplant them in Paris, and then when the crash comes they get out. Look at old Guzman Blanco, He was worth £6,000,000. Downright stealing, you know. Supposing anybody built a railroad there. The next revolution the railroad would be seized. Maybe you get it wask and maybe you don't." It all depends on their disposition. They have an extra duty of 30 per cent, by the way, in Venezuela on all exports that come by way of Trinidad."

"And your own tariff?"

"And your own tariff?"
"It is comparatively small, but we have export duties on sugar."

"What's that for?" "Mr. Greig answered: "To pay for the coolies. Coolie labor is not slave labor. I'll tell you about it. Labor is hard to get, and the government and the Indian government enter into an agreement. They furnish men from Bombay, Calcutta and all those ports for 25 a year each tor a five years' term. The planters have to furnish barracks, fuel, medical attendance, hospitals, and not less than 25 cents a day pay. That's clear money to the coolie, Then after his time is up and he has coolie, Then after his time is up and he has had what is called five years' industrial residence he gets a piece of land, or passage back home, or its equivalent in money. VALUE OF AUTOGRAPHS.

The President's Signature Costs a Dollar and Gladstone's Is a Drug.

Gladstone's Is a Drug.

Autograph collecting is a very innocent, though somewhat costly hobby, says a collector in The St. Louis Globe-Democrat. My collection has cost me over $500, and its cash value today is over $1,000. Autographs have their cash prices and will always fetch them. The signature of a president of the United States is worth $1—that is to say, any since Garfield, Garfield's is cheap at $2, and Lincoln's at $10. A letter written by Lincoln early in the war has been sold for $50. Thomas Jefferson's signature fetches $10, and is very scarce. Foreign autographs run high. The First Napoleon's is worth between $20 and $50; Dr. Johnson's about the same. Queeen Victoria's sold as low as $6.50, and is often a forgery at that. The prince of Wales has been very sparing with his autographs and the only one I ever knew of being sold fetched $12.50. Lord Beaconsfield's is worth $5, but as Mr. Gladstone will courteously reply to any letter sent him, his autograph is a drug on the market and has scarcly any cash value at all. Boulanger's autograph used to sell for $1, and Bismarck's is worth three times that amount.

The American Investment Company was organized a few days ago for the purpose of buying lots, erecting houses on them and then selling them to the people on the installment plan. Its success is insured. It is capitalized at $220,000. Aiready more than $100,000 worth of the stock has been taken. It is being subscribed every day by the best business men in Atlanta and in the state. The plan of the American Investment Company is a good one. It is better than a building and loan association in a great many respects. Atlanta is noted for its homes. Probably there is not a city in all the southern states whose people own as many homes as the people of Atlanta. It is such institutions as the American Investment Company that enable the wage carners, and for that matter the people generally, to own their homes. This company is planned for that purpose. It is safe to predict, from the start it has made, that it will be the means of erecting many homes in this city, and at the same time bring in a large per cent to the stockholders.

I believe it is the best plan for its purpose I have ever seen. It is bound to bring in big dividends. I would not be surprised if it did not pay the stockholders 25 per cent the first year. The fact that the value of Atlanta dirt is constantly increasing, and that houses can be erected by the wholosale so much cheaper than one at the time, the profits must be enormous. The men connecred with it are among the best citizens of Atlanta. They are noted for their business qualifications and integrity. I am sure there is no stronger company of its character in the state.

VACANT JUDGESHIPS.

CANDIDATES ARE PLENTIFUL AND SO ARE THEIR FRIENDS.

The Chattahoochee Circuit Fight-The New Tallapoosa Circuit and the Solicitorship of Rome Circuit.

Next Wednesday at noon the legislatur A judge for the Chattahoochee circuit, to succeed ex-Governor James M. Smith.

A judge for the newly created Tallapooss

And, under a certain contingency, a solicitor

A new candidate appeared in this race yes-terday, Hon. Rowland H. Willis, of Talbot. That makes the list of candidates read: From Muscogee-Hon. J. M. McNeill, Hon. W. B. Butts, Judge Mark Blandford. From Talbott-Colonel Henry Martin, Colonel Row land H. Willis.

The reference yesterday to Judge W. B. Butt, which made that well-known gentleman a citizen of Mississippi, created no little fun about the capitol yesterday. Everybody in Georgia knows "Bill" Butt, who has been a per of the senate, and several times of the lower house, and is one of the strongest men in southwest Georgia. Judge Butt lived for years in Marien county, and has the esteem and admiration of all the people of his section. In addition to being an excellent lawyer, he has been very successful as a farmer. His plantation in Marion and the one he owns in Mississippi are models and his energy and good management have made them valuable. Judge Butt, as will be seen, has very strong endorsements for the vacant judgeship, and they come from the people who know him best.

The friends of Colonel McNeill and Colonel Martin, of Talbot, were hard at work yesterday, and both sides report good results-from their standpoint. Judge Blandford, too, has very many friends, but the doesen't seem to be making active canvass for the place.

Colonel Willis, the new candidate, is known throughout the state, and has strong backing. He is a splendid lawyer and his friends say possesses all the qualifications necessary in a

The Tallapoosa Circuit.
Colonel Charlie Janes and General Pike Hill are the candidates for the judgeship, while Armistead Richardson is the only lawyer in the circuit who wants to be solicitor gen-

Should Colonel Janes get the judgeship, several candidates for the solicitor generalship of the same circuit will offer. Among those already mentioned are Hon. W. M. Henry, of Chattooga; H. P. Lumpkin, of Walker, and Nunnally, of Floyd.

Some Endorsements. The following from The Enquirer-Sun tells of the endorsement of Mr. McNeill: of the endorsement of Mr. McNeili:

At a called meeting of the Columbus bar, held at 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Wednesday, Norember 28, 1890, W. H. Brannon was called to the chair, and W. A. Wimbish was requested to act as lecretary. The following members of the bar were present: F. D. Peabody, C. E. Battle, H. C.
Caneron, H. R. Goetchius, B. H. Crawford, L. C.
Levy, A. A. Dozler, John D. Little, W. H. Brannon, J. F. Pou, W. A. Tigner, J. G. Moon and W.
A. Wimbish.

Mr. Peabody explained the object of the meeting to be the selection of a condictor as the savet.

non, J. F. Pou, W. A. Tigner, J. G. Moon and W. A. Wimbish.

Mr. Peabody explained the object of the meeting to be the selection of a candidate as the preference of the Columbus bar to succeed the Hon. James M. Smith as judge of the superior court of the Chattahoochee circuit.

The legislature being now in session, it was the sense of the meeting that early action in this regard was rendered necessary.

The following resolution was offered and unanimously adopted.

Whereas, There is a vacancy in the judgeship of the Chattahoochee circuit, caused by the death of the Hon. James M. Smith, be it therefore Resolved, That James M. Mevilel is the choice of the Columbus bar for this position.

Resolved further, That our representatives and senator be, and they are hereby, requested to urge his election by all possible and proper means.

Resolved further, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished our representatives in the general assembly and local papers.

W. A. Wimbish,

Secretary.

FOR MR. BUIT.

FOR MR. BUTT. Mr. Butt, too, has the endorsement of some leading members of the Columbus bar, as the following testimony will show:

To the General Assembly of Georgia:
We, the undersigned members of the Columbus
Lat. take pleasure in recompanding Hon. W. B. bar, take pleasure in recommending Hon. W. B.
Butt for judge of the Chattahoochee circuit, knowing as we do that he is well qualified in every respect, and having served three terms in the house of representatives and twice in the senate of the state to the satisfaction of his entire constituency, and has always shown himself to be a friend of the people, and we therefore most cheerfully recommend him, and ask his election.
Thomas W. Grimes, C. J. Thornton, R. A. Thornton, Whoeler Williams, Miller & Miller, J. E.
Chapman, C. R. Russell, Leonidis McLester.
Yesterday Colonel Butt received the following from Buena Vista, Marion counts, showing from Buena Vista, Marion counts, showing from Buena Vista, Marion county, showing how he is thought of at the place that was his home for years and the county he so faithfully represented in the legislature:

fully represented in the legislature:

BUENA VISTA, Ga., November 27, 1890.—To the General Assembly of the State of Georgia: Whereas a vacancy has been made in the office of judge of the superior court for the Chattaloochee circuit by the death of the lamented James M. Smith; and, whereas, it will sond devoive on your honorable body to fill said vacancy by election, we, the members of the barr of Marion county and of the Chattaloochee circuit, respectfully recommend as a suitable person to fill said vacancy the Hoa. Whitam B. Butt, of the Buena Vista bar. A lawyer of twenty-five years in the practice, honest, capable and incorruptible. His administration as judge of the county court developed fine executive ability, and was approved by the bar and the people.

W. D. Chawvord, George P. Munro, Ebogar M. Buert, E. W. MILLER, W. B. SHORT.

This was followed by the following telegram:

This was followed by the following telegram: BUENA VISTA, Ga., November 28.—Judge W. B.

Sunday Evening's Meeting---Miss Ida C. Clothier's Address.

Clothler's Address.

A large and enthusiastic audionce greeted Miss Clothier, of Boston, of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Sunday evening in the lecture room of the First Methodist Episcopal church of our city. Dr. Hopkins very kindly waived his own service and gave his presence and hearty cooperation to the young ladies' meeting. Miss Lily Reynolds presided very sweetly and the first public meeting of the Y's proved a decided success.

lic meeting of the Y's proved a decided success.

Miss Clothier is an able speaker and puts all the enthusiasm of her youth and love for the great work of uplifting and ennobling humanity into voice and manner, holding her audience in rapt attention throughout her address. She is logical in the airangement of her thought, forceful and convincing in its utterance, while the great charm that wins her audience is her modeat and cultivated bearing.

Miss Clothier will remain in the city until Saturday, the guest of Dr. Mary Hicks, No. 72 North Proor street, when she continues her journey brough the southern states. The next regular meeding of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of Atlanta, will be held Friday evening at 3 o'clock at the residence of Miss Boynton.

Peace on Earth.

This is once more enjoyed by the rheumatic wise enough to counteract their progressive malady with Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. No testimony is stronger than that which indicates it as a source of relief in this complaint. It is also eminently effective as a treatment for kidney trouble, cyspel sia, debility, liver complaint and constipation. Use it with persistence for the above.

If the intestinal action is sluggish take a course of cathartics or some form of diuretic water to carry off the wastes of the body through the kidneys. The Philadelphia Times thus speaks of this marvelous production:

While it has been some five or six years since the Hanlons first played "Fantasma" on the stage, it has never been the same thing in any two seasons, but in each succeeding year has been so diversified that it is always new. The perform-ance which was seen at the Broad Street theater last night was handsome, attractive and interspersed with numerous novelties. In its compo ment parts are pantomime, song. dance, comedy, farce, music, melodrama, mystery, magic and extravaganza, alf of which are skilfully combined travaganza, alf of which are skiffully combined into a pleasing and harmonious entirety. The mechanical devices are really surprises, because of their ingeneaty and their starting effect, not the least of which are the transformation scenes. The "decapitation act" is a wonderful illusion, and on the spec faility side of the production there could scarcely be anything more amusing and interesting them the doings of Pizzarello and funny "Little Tootsey," who is a really clever child specialist.

The Little Tycoon. This most dainty of all comic operas will be at the opera hous; next Wednesday and Thursday This most day may of all comic operas will be at the opera hous a next Wednesday and Thursday evening, and at the special matinee Thursday. Long after the scenes that have been connected with "The Litt'te Tyooon," which have been enjoyed in connection with the opera are forgotten, the music will live. This opera is one that contains a two-fold interest, for while the music is of a peculiarly fascinating material, it is made to interpret in a marvelous manner a rome more that has in itself the power of sustaining the interest of the audience. The comedy that is introduced is of the most novel and interesting description and never palls upon one, and last, but not least, as a spetacular production, it for ma an entrancing picture, perfect in the exqusive harmony of cofor and in the graceful titudes of the arists when in repose or in motion. The company appearing in the opera here is composed of most excellent material, and is said to be the finest ever seen in the opera, and is composed of such well known names as will Mandeville, Miss Laura Nuilsrce, Miss Jennie Goldthewsite, Miss Alice Hosnier, Aldr'wh Libbey, Neil O'Brien, Arthur Pacie, Miss En uma Laurence, Joseph Mealey, Raymond Hitchewsk, and others, assisted by a large chorus and the dr own orchestra.

Catarrh can never be cured by ointments and other local applications, but there is one remedy that can permanently remove the cause. It has cured cases where the discharge was so copious and offensive that it felt as if the whole head was a mass of corruption. Other cases indicated by an irresistible desire to hawk and spit, the phiegm collecting in a tough mass belind the soft palate. In other cases where the matter dried up in such large lumps as to fairly close up the nostrils and prevent nasal raspiration. In other cases where the breath was so offensively revolting and fetid that the person became a disjusting object in society. Other cases where the sense of smell was ensirely lost. Other cases where the droppings fell into the throat and the voice became husky, and caused a troublesome cough. O'you want to know the name of the medicine? It is called Dr. John Bull's Sarsaparilla. It can be bot ight of any druggist. Catarrh Can be Cured.

INCREASED TAXES.

THE COMMITTEE ON FINANCE RUN-NING UP SPECIAL TAXES.

Future Dealers Must Go to the Wall in Georgia-Pistol and Gun Dealers Must Pay a Big Price.

Some decided changes will be made by the finance committee of the house in the general tax bill this year. The committee has been considering this bill the whole week, and has about completed its work at last. Last night a most important meeting was held, when Comptroller General Wright and State Treasurer R. U. Hardeman appeared before the committee to give their aid in the way of rendering suggestions as to the probable receipts and disbursements of the coming

On Monday the committee will hold another meeting, at which time their final action will be taken and their full report made out. Up to this time several very marked differences have been discussed and pretty much agreed upon by the committee. The report will more than likely have the following startling increases in special taxes for the state:

On liquor dealers $100, instead of $50. On traveling venders of medicine $100, in-On circuses traveling through the state $300 per day, instead of $200 as heretofore.

On dealers in pistols and long-range firearms, $500 instead of $25. The reason urged for this change in the committee room was that the negroes in the turpentine and wire-grass regions of Georgia would, by raising the tax, be prevented from going armed with fire-arms, and the repeated riots in those sections would cease.

Stove peddlers will be taxed $200, instead of $25, because the farmers complain of being swindled by thein.

Clock peddlers will get stuck for $200, instead of $25. Billiard and pool rooms will be taxed $50, instead of $25. DOWN WITH FUTURE DEALERS.

Dealers in futures will be knocked out on the first round. At least, that is the intention of the finance

They have heretofore been taxed only $500, ut the finance committee have raised it to $10,000 with a view to killing them out. The bill says, however, that this tax will not apply to the warehouses and brokers who do a legitimate business of taking orders and supplying them in straightforward business methods. From this source last year more than $2,500 venue was received by the state. With such a policy as is set forth by these few changes it will be seen that the financial committee will reduce the general income by suppressing several branches of business.

This being true if increased appropriations are made, (and there are bills already pending that greatly increase the appropriations) there will necessarily have to be an increased levy of taxes.

The bill will not be reported, however, until Tuesday or Wednesday next. A Perfect Charm.-Mrs. Winslow's Sooth-ING SYRUP certainly does, as the name implies, "soothe" the little sufferer into a quiet, natural sleep, from which it awakens invigor-

The Day on the Floor of the New York Stock Exchange.

NEW YORK, November 28 .- The stock market today was irregular, and while showing great strength in spot in the forenoon, displayed reac-tionary tendency later in the day and the early improvement was nearly neutralized, leaving prices but little better as a rule than those of prices but little better as a rule than those of Wednesday afternoon. Conservative bankers and some commission houses continue to advise their customers to buy only what they can pay for. Traders seem at present to be the principal particles and while a bullish feeling is ies in the market, and while a bullish feeli still strong in them, they are easily turned. To-day the market was irregular at the opening and the bears were inclined to become aggressive, traders following suit and invited by comparative quietness of speculation. The force was all-pow-erful for the moment, and in several stocks the lifting power was so great that the operations of the bearish contingent were arrested immediately and one of the sharpest advances seen since prices and one of the sharpest advances seen since prices reached their lowest point took place. Sugar had appened off 2½ per cent on the rumor that a large retiner had refused to deposit his certificates, but in denial of the story, it shot up 6 per cent. Rock island, in which there seemed to be a movement to force the short interest to cover, led the movement among the stocks of the regular list, and, in conjunction with several others, was lending at a premium in the stock loan crowd. It shott up from 70½ to 75½, followed closely by Burlington and other Grangers and some speciaties. Buying, anowever, reached its limit quickly, and prices began to sag away before noon, when money suffered up, the rate on call rising to 8 per cent, while many realizations occurred on the advance of the forenoon. The bears again came to the front, and prices continued to fall all the atternoon, Lackawanna being a special favorite in selling for some time. It yielded over 4 per cent, and rallied only a little over 1. The downward movement came to an end in the last hour, and while there were some advances in the last few minutes, the market closed quiet and only steady with most of the list at but slightichanges from the opening prices. The final changes are generally in the direction of higher prices, and Sugar is up 2%, Rock Island 2½, Burlington 1½ and Jersey Central 1 per cent, while the only important decline is 1½ in Lackawanna. Sales of listed stocks 290,000 shares, unlisted 20,000 shares.

NEW YORK. November 28,—3:00 p. m.—London prices were higher this morning and the general feeling was buoyant. The reason for this was a flood of bull talk from Mr. Gould and his associates promising all sorts of favorable developments in both railroad circles and the money market. We have no doubt that the Gould party made use of the general explantages measured by their re-Hans. of the general enthusiasm occasioned by their re-markable frankness in publishing their news to realize on some of their speculatively bull stocks, realize on some of their speculatively bull stocks, not that we believe that they do not look for higher prices, but because a reaction after so sharp an advance is certainly healthy and probable. In consequence the market weakened somewhat in the final trades, the reaction in some what in the final trades, the reaction in some what in the final trades, the reaction in some stocks being as much as 2 per cent. The decline was assisted by the report from Phiadelphia of the failure there of the well known house of B. K. Jamison & Co., who have been established for over a quarter of a century and who have always been favorably looked upon. Their failure is not due to any rottenness, but probably to the fact that their means are tied up in unsaleable securities. We do not think that any serious financial rottenness need be looked for in any quarter, and therefore see no reason to sell stocks. On the contrary we believe that weakness in the market brought about by such causes should be utilized to pick up cheap stock. The marked feature in the weakening was dullness, and the sale was accompanied by all sorts of vague runners in regard to the cash trade, although why this condition should only have become known on the very first cold day of the season we have failed to the to the cash trade, although why this condition should only have become known on the very first cold day of the season we have failed to find any explanation of. Chicago Gas Company sold off on the old story of the price of gas in that city being reduced to $1 per hundred. The newspapers are full of talk of Mr. Gould's great scheme of reorganizing the western railroad situation. We believe all these reports a bit premature, but hope the plans will be consummated some day and when they are today's prices will look very cheap indeed. In the meanwhile, we will have plenty of ups and downs, and would caution our friends against overtrading or buying on too small margins.

Hubbard, Price & Co.'s Circular.

ENEW YORK, November 28—[Special.]—The Liverpool market yesterday improved some 2 points at the opening, but before the close had lost one-half the advance and by this evening prices were partially 1 point below the final figures of Wednesday. The bearish feeling here in consequence has reasserted itself, and prices close some 5g6 points under those of Wednesday, and the general expectation is in favor of a still further decline to-morrow. Receipts at the ports are comparatively morrow. Receipts at the ports are comparatively light, but the interior movement is nearly 25 per light, but the interior movement is nearly 25 per cent heavier than last year, and the stocks show an increase of nearly 31,000 bales, showing conclusively that the light port receipts are due to holding at the primary points. As a rule previously this policy on the part of producers has had but one result—namely, the enforced sale of such holdings at low prices. Money for legitimate commercial purposes continues to work year right, and mercial purposes continues to work very tight, and call loans are again higher. On the stock exchange call loans are again higher. On the stock exchange today the failure of an important firm of bankers in Philadelphia is announced, and has somewhat disturbed confidence. Cotton continues to point toward New York for contract delivery, and our tock is, we think, soon likely to show a substantial increase.

By Private Wire to Youngblood & Hans.

NEW YORK, November 28.—Considering our firm closing on Wednesday, the advices from Liverpool this morning were disappointing, resulting in a decline of 5 points here at the opening, after which the market was remarkably dull and steady, fluctuating within a radius of 3 points. Notwithstanding receipts were moderate, the market is hard to bull, and we fail to see much room for any improvement, though as stated in our last report, a reaction of 15@20 points would not surprise us.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Features of the Speculative Movement in

Grain and Provisions.
CHICAGO, November 28—The opening prices in all the speculative commodities were without change from those prevailing prior to the Thanks-giving interruption of business.

An advance in the first few minutes gave the ulls some reason to think that their side was likely to maintain its ascendancy, but early appearances were deceitful, and in the end there was universal weakness and lower prices. Wheat closed 1%c lower, and corn and oats %c lower, and several articles on the provision list also made a slight loss compared with Wednesday's closing iveries widened as the session advanced, and toward the end % was the prevailing change. In the last few minutes prices were at their lowest. At the close May wheat reacted to 101, and De-cember was nominally worth 93%. Corn was firm when wheat was firm, and continued its sympathy when the reverse condition was applicable to the latter cereal. The opening price for May was 51%, and it advanced during the first half hour to 51%. Owing to the cause althe first half hour to 54%. Owing to the cause already referred to there was a gradual weakening, which was most prominent close to the end, and during which a decline to 53% took place, the closing quotations being 55% 263%. There was much more putting out of a further short line, however, than covering of those previously existing. Local receipts amounted to 155 car loads. Oats were fairly active for May, but near deliveries were regreezed.

eries were neglected. The weakness in the other grains and increased offerings by longs produced a decline of %c, and the market closed quiet al-most at inside figures, and about the same as on Wednesday.

Pork-Trading was moderately active, and the feeling was somewhat unsettled. Prices fluctu-ated considerably. The opening prices were made at 21/2 a5c decline, and prices rallied 121/2 a15c. Later prices gradually receded 15@171/2c, closing at about inside figures.

Lard—A fairly active trade was reported, and the feeling was somewhat nervous and unsettled. Prices ruled 2½@5c higher early in the day, but gradually settled back 5@7½c, and closed quiet.

Short rib sides—Trading was moderately active. Prices ruled 21/2@5c higher early in the day, but later the advance was lost, and the market closed steady at about inside figures, Haas. CHICAGO, November 28 .- Grain-Aside from the early trading, which rather favored the bulls in action and feeling, wheat ruled weak and lower. If talk will accomplish anything, wheat is in good hands, as bull arguments are plentiful. Reports of charters or shipments are told and retold so as to magnify their investment. retold so as to magnify their importance.

Stocks were strong today and silver also, so the trouble with wheat is that too many peoply are wishing it to go up, but abstain from supporting the market by purchases and by selling out on the weak spots. It looks like an easy declining market with an occasional ray of hope for believ ers in higher prices.

Corn declined materially today. The late advance was hardly warranted by facts, but accomplished by manipulation and frightened shorts. Oats were steady and still keeping within hailing distance of the high point last established. Provisions steady.

"There is too much work in the supreme court of Georgia for two men to handle, and they are thus forced to overwork themselves. why, in truth, the justices are killing them-selves. They only fill their terms to give over their effice for the winding sheet.

To Elect Judges.

Mr. Goodwin, of Fulton, offered a resolution sterday providing, with the senate's concuresce, to hold a joint session next Tuesday for the purpose of electing a judge for the Chatta-hookee circuit, to succeed the late Judge James M. Smith, and elect a judge and solle itor general for the new judicial circuit to be known as the Tallapoosa circuit.

The resolution was amended so as to fix the lection on Wednesday next and passed. From the present outlook there will be some He in this election.

It is commonly known that the candidates for the judgeship of the Chatahoochee are the following: Hon. Mark Blandford, Hon. James McNeill, Hon. Roland Willis, Henry Martin and Hon. W. B. Butt, and those fo the Tallapoosa judgeship are Hon. C. J. Jones and Colonel Pike Hill.

The only candidate mentioned so far for the policitor's place in the new circuit is Mr. A. Richardson, of Cedartown. The following will probably run for the solicitor's place in the Rome circuit in case Mr. C.G. Janes is elected from that office to the ship of the new circuit: Mr. Nunnally, Judgeship of the new circuit.

Mr. W. Henry and Mr. H. P. Lumpkin. Their mes have at least been mentioned in this

The Bibb county delegation spent Thanks-giving Day at their homes in Macon.

The anti-barroom bill is alive again. Its new lease of life was given by the votes of those opposed to the bill. It was a parliamentary stratagem from a very unexpected quarter.

The schemers were the farmers. Who are supposed to know little or nothing f legislative guile.

The victims were the lawyers and the parliamentarians, along with a contingent not lawyers nor parliamentarians, but opposed to the bill.

It was an amusing reversal of the ordinary state of affairs, for the parliamentarians were whipped at their own game.

It happened this way.

During the reading of the journal Senator Todd, the author of the bill, gave notice that he would move to reconsider the action of Wednesday; and immediately after the reading of the journal he made that motion.

"I move to table that motion to reconsider," said Senator Ellington, a friend of the said Senator Ellington, a friend of the measure.

This looked, upon the face of it, like a motion adverse to the bill.

The motion to table was adopted almost unanimously, being voted for by all the opponents of the bill, and carried. "The motion to reconsider is tabled," said resident Mitchell.

The smiles of the supporters of the bill, when the result was announced, excited a discussion as to the practical effect of what had "The motion to reconsider did not prevail," was the position of the opponents of the bill.

"No," was the reply, "but it was not lost,' and 'anything put on the table can be taken up again." up again.'"

The more it was talked about, the more ap parent it became that the opponents of the bill had been caught napping.

So President Mitchell thought; so did ex-Speaker Gus Little, who happened to be in the capitol at the time and was asked for an opinion; so do Mr. Fleming and the bost parliamentarians in the legislature mentarians in the legislature.

Undoubtedly, if the motion to reconsider had been voted upon direct, it would have been lost yesterday: But the opposition was side-tracked, and the anti-barroom bill still lives.

Whether it can be patched into a shape that will admit of its passage is quite another question.

tion.

It seems that a clear majority of the senate are against the bill.

ADJOURNED UNTIL MONDAY.

After a very short session the senate adjourned until Monday morning; only one new bill having been read.

That was by Senator Johnson of the twenty-first- to provide a fund for the treatment of glanders and other centagious diseases.

"I was about to try a change of climate in order to cure my catarrh," says I. W. Lillis, of Chicago, "when I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, which entirely cured me." Try it yourself.

CHEAP CERTIFICATES

GIVEN BY PREACHERS TO PATENT MEDICINES.

The Dixie Doctor Propounds Three Questions to Atlanta Physiciaus, Which Are Very Promptly Answered.

The Dixie Doctor, Dr. T. H. Huzza, editor, has raised a question that is being freely discussed in Atlanta. In the November number of The Dixie Doctor we find the following under the head of "Preachers and Patent Medicines:

Medicines:
The following questions will be found answered as seen given in letters below. Others will be printed next month:
ATLANTA, Ga., November 6.—Dear Doctor: Please return answers to the following questions. By doing so you will greatly oblige us, and we will reciprocate the favor at any time:

1. What do you think of the miscellaneous endorsement of patent medicines, which is so common with preachers?

2. Is it not the custom for preachers to obtain medical services without paying for them?

3. Are you in favor of better medical legislation in Georgia than we now have? If so, what?

Please give your ideas in detail upon these so, what?
Please give your ideas in detail upon these points, if not too much trouble.

ATLANTA, Ga., November 6.—1. The miscellaneous endorsement of patent medicines by preachers, and all others, is wrong; because, chiefly, they cannot know what the ingredients of these medicines are. They are, therefore, endorsing a thing of which they are entirely and thoroughly ignorant, both as to their component parts and effects. Serious injury might follow the promiseuous use of the medicines.

2. As a rule, no charge is made againt ministers of the gospel for the reason-that their pay, with a few exceptions, barely gives them a decent living.

3. Medical legislation in Georgia is sadly in need of improvement, and I am in favor of anything that will tend to promote such improvement. of improvement, and I am in favor of anythin that will tend to promote such improvement Yours,

A. W. Calhoun, M. D.

Dear Doctor Huzza: You ask me what I think of the missellaneous endorsement of patent medicines by preachers.

I think it does more to keep all well-informed doctors from the church services of such men than all other causes put together. Because, from the standpoint of an intelligent physician and man, not understanding the action of medicines, and at the same time endorsing a patent medicine, must be placed under one of two heads—he must be either a knave or a fool. In the former case the doctor does not care to a tend the church services of him who is given a block of the stock of some patent medicine for his endorsement of the same; and in the latter case he does not exact to be editied by such attendance. Of course, there are many remarkable exceptions, many ministers being too honorable to be placed in the first class, and possessed of too much common sense to belong to the scoond.

In answer to your second question, I would say hat, so far as I know, it is the universal custom or ministers to receive gratuitous medical at-In answer to your third question, I would say, make three full terms compulsory.

A. G. Hobbs, M. D.

A. G. Hobbs, M. D.

Atlanta, Ga., November 7.—T. H. Huzza, M. D., 21½ Marietta street—Dear Doctor: Yours at hand; in reply will answer questions as follows:
No. 1. I do not endorse any such proceedings, and think that the same should be frowned down. No. 2. I believe it is the custom.
No. 3. Yes. A bill should be passed by the legislature authorizing the appointment by the governor of a state board of medical examiners. Any person coming to the state to practice medicine, having diplomas from regularly chartered colleges, should be compelled to go before said board and present their diplomas for examination and registration. Those having no diplomas, or whose diplomas are not correct, should be compelled to stand an examination by the board. With best wishes, truly yours, E. V. Joye, M. D.

ATLANTA, Ga., November 10.—Dixie Doctor: It affords me pleasure to briefly answer your questions.

1. It is wrong, and should be our Christian duty to inform the preachers of the evil results of such endorsements, and should be made aware of the fact that many deaths have been caused by this friendly act.

fact that many deaths have been caused by this friendly act.

2. I think a preacher has as much right to expect his groceries, dry goods, or any other necessity of life, free of charge, as a physician's service. Our medical knowledge is our capital, and we bought it with our money as much so as the merchant has his goods. Perhaps some cases may come under head of charity, but that is another consideration.

3. I favor better medical legislation in our state. Students, before being allowed to matriculate in any medical college, should be examined by a board appointed for that purpose, and be required to have a good, classical education, and be required to attend three full courses of lectures. No physician should be allowed to practice in this state unless he or she held a certificate from a college that made these requirements. Patent medicine and patent doctors should be swept out of existence.

ATLANTA C. Novamber 12. Mr. Prop. Doctor.

ATLANTA, G., November 13.—My Dear Doctor Huzza: In answer to the questions propounded in yours of the 5th instant, I begleave to lay the following answers:

1. To the least reflective mind, patent medicines

1. To the least reflective mind, patent medicines are frauds. Those who put them up are charlatans, and those who endorse them are either ignorant dupes or unprincipled abettors.

2. To be sure it is. In a country democratically republican, rights to all and privileges to none should be the golden rule. The contrary, however, prevalls, and the preacher keeps his hed on the neck of the physician with no less firmness than he does on that of any other citizen of this land. Show me a preacher who expects to pay for medical services rendered to himself, his wife, his children or mother-in-law, and I will show you a white elephant.

Why should a physician who struggles for an existence wait gratuitously on a minister who not only gets a big salary, ranging from $3,000 to $5,000 and upwards, pays no rent, no taxes, no license, gets his parlors and bedrooms elegantly turnished, his pantry filled, his traveling and boarding expenses paid by his congregation, with an occasional trip abroad for the benefit of his precious health, also subscribed to and paid for by the same? Why, I say, should a physician, who has all the burdens of life and of his own vocacation to bear, wa itch him and his family for nothing?

And yet he does it, in spite of the fact that some

And yet he does it, in spite of the fact that some And yet he does it, in spite of the fact that some of those preachers are engaged in mercantile and manufacturing pursuits. We know of one minister here who buys, sells and swaps horses; of another who publishes to the world the wonderful cureall of a germ killer, and is secretly engaged in its manufacture!

3. No. Legislation cannot remedy those evils that the medical profession complain of. Legislation has but too often legalized that which is merally wrong. Witness the garnishment acts, etc.

morally wrong. Witness the garnishment acts, etc.

There is a sentiment prevailing among a very large class of men of all stations in life, and that is, that the payment for medical services is not binding, or can be indefinitely postponed to suit the individual's convenience. This sentiment is a growing evil. How can you reasonably expect that a clerk, a merchant, mechanic, or a professional man should pay his doctor's bill when the preacher, the man of God, of religion, of morality, does not even think of paying his?

Reform should take place in the medical ranks. This question should rise to the dignity of a duty which physicians owe themselves, their profession and their families. What this duty is is better imagined than described. Every solid organization has its purposes, its obligations and its pledges. Medical societies &; if they will, correct this great evil. Respectably,

E. VANGOIDTSNOVEN, M. D.

ATLANTA, Ga., November 6, 1890.—1. It is a mistake and greatly to be deprecated by honest men and women. 2. Yes; it is almost universal in the south. 3 Yes. The most generally useful medicine is Ayer's Pills. As a remedy for the various diseases of the stomach, liver, and bowels, these Pills have no equal. Their sugar-costing causes them not only to be easy and pieasant to take, but preserves their medicinal integrity in all climates and for any reasonable length of time. The best family medicine, Ayer's Pills are, also, unsurpassed for the use of travelers, soldiers, sailors, campers, and pioneers. In some of the most critical cases, when all other remedies have falled, prove effective.

"In the summer of 1864 I was sent to the Annapolis hospital, suffering with chronic diarrhea. While there, I became so reduced in strength that I could not speak and was compelled to write everything I wanted to say. I was then having some 25 or 30 stools per day. The doctors ordered a medicine that I was satisfied would be of no berfett to me. I did not take it, but persuaded my nurse to get me some of Dr. Ayer's Pills. About two o'clock in the afternoon I took six of these pills, and by midnight began to feel better. In the morning the doctors came again, and after deciding that my symptoms were more favorable, gave me a different medicine, which I did not use, but took four more of the pills instead. The next day the doctors came to see me, and next day the doctors came to see me, and next day the doctors came to see me, and thought I was doing nicely, (and so did I). I then took one pill a day for a week. At the end of that time, I considered myself cured and that Ayer's Pills had saved my life. I was then weak, but had no return of the disease, and gained in strength as fast as could be expected."—F. C. Luce, Late Lieut. 56th Regt. Mass. Vol. Infantry. "Ayer's Pills are
